

Netball Work place Tournament

Get together with your colleagues (Male & Female) and compete against other business teams from your area.
Celebrating the Build up to the Vitality Netball World Cup

“

We go straight from work, encourage each other to go and don't want to let each other down - teamwork - that's got to be good for the workplace too surely!

“

It is fun and going regularly means that we get to know the people we already spend a lot of time working with in a far more informal setting.

“

It's a great team building exercise, bringing different parts of the business together. It has improved relations in the office too.

“

Our netball sessions have been awesome! Not only has it brought us together as a team and we've got to know people we don't normally work with, we get a real sense of achievement from it. Sessions are fun and even team mates who don't class themselves as 'sporty' are getting involved.
